KEEP SWEET.

KEEP COOL.

We owe it to our homes, we owe it to the community, to keep sweet. It is more easy to keep so if we feel so. Nothing more conducive or economical on a warm day than Ice Cream or Ice Lemonade.

MURDER

A negro named Sykes, recently released from the chain gang shot and killed his son-in-law, John Davis, last week at Lake Helen.

NEW ENTERPRISE.

Florida is to have a new industry in the way of a fiber factory at Tampa for converting the leaves of the pineapple into fiber for the manufacture of cloth. It is estimated that the income from this source will be as great as that from the fruit itself.

SUCCESS IN FLORIDA.

The illustrated agricultural special of the Bartow Courier-Informant is a creditable issue. It sets forth the horticultural and agricultural resources of Polk County and should stimulate interest in the prospective settlers mind.

Commenting on this issue Editor Sweet observes:

This country is not held up as a land of Paradise, nor is it exactly a "land flowing with milk and honey." These commodities are here but one must work for them. A man cannot sit down in idleness and see silver dollars rain into his lap. He must hustle here the same as elsewhere.

But the man of energy and pluck, who is brave enough to "tickle the earth with his hoe" may reasonably expect a liberal reward for his industry. That's the secret of the success of the men who contribute to our columns today.

DELAND AND THEREABOUTS.

Weekly News.

Two negro prisoners, at work on the DeLand-Daytona road, escaped from the guards on Monday, and have not yet been recaptured. They are; Ed Medlock, just begun on a ten month's sentence, George Howell, just on a ten month's sentence. Sheriff Turner will probably recapture them, when their sentences will be considerably lengthened on the charge of "escape."

The county prisoners—seven in number—who have been working on the Daytona-DeLand road, were brought in yesterday, the guards finding too much water on the flat woods for present operations. The prisoners will be put to work on the DeLand-Orange City road. The county road jail was left in the woods between DeLand and Daytona; but it is probably safe, as no one will be likely to steal it. They can't steal it, because it's iron.

Rev. Henry Little has resigned the pastorage of the St. Barnabas Episcopal church, the resignation to take effect October 1. Mr. and Mrs. Little will return to England, while the children will go to Canada, for the present. Rev. C. A. Brewster of Orange City will succeed Mr. Little as rector of St. Barnabas.

Dame Rumor states that Mr. Frank S. Sams of New Smyrna is soon to lead to the altar a most charming DeLand lady—one who resides on South Boulevard.

The Baptist Young People's Society have deferred their usual meeting to attend the temperance meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening.

PENSACOLA WILL BECOME AN IMPORTANT NAVAL STATION.

Rear Admiral William C. Wise visited Pensacola Tuesday, Aug. 1st, and from authorized statements given out from the navy yard by officers in high position, that place within a few months will be one of the most important naval rendezvous of the country.

It has developed that the real purpose of Rear Admiral Wise's visit there was for the purpose of making preliminary plans towards making Pensacola navy yard the headquarters of the largest naval fleet and the most formidable ever gathered together in times of peace, consisting of about half a dozen battleships about the same number of cruisers and gunboats and a dozen or more torpedo boats and tenders.

The Navy Department has planned that commencing at New York this large fleet will make land attacks on all cities of importance on the Atlantic coast and as far south as Key West; from Key West each gulf port from there to Galveston will be made objects of these attacks. The fleet will be in the gulf in the winter, rendezvousing at Pensacola during the lulls in the time of practice.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

HOW HAROLD GOT HIS WATCH.

The Western Christian Advocate for July 16 has the following good story to tell:

The presiding elder of F— District, in one of the Ohio Methodist Conferences, stepped into the home of one of the preachers of his district some time ago, since the holidays, and at the door he was met by the preacher's four-year-old son Harold, who, before any one else could speak, called out to the elder, "I've got a Watch!" at the same time drawing it from his pocket and holding it up to be seen. "Sure enough!" the elder replied; you have a watch! I was wondering what made you look so big. Why you seem to be four inches taller than when I last saw you! Let me see your watch. Where did you get it?" "Santa brought it to me!" said Harold; "and I'll tell you how you can get one, if you want it." "Indeed, I would like to have a nice new watch," said the elder; but I am afraid old Santa has forgotten all about me now. But I would like to know how you did, and I might try." "Well," said Harold, "you must write Santa a letter; but you mustn't put it in the postoffice; you must stick it up the chimney. That's where Santa gets his letters. And then, you must go and pray." "Pray!" said the elder. "Yes," said Harold, "that's for God not to let him forget it." "Then," said the elder, "you must tell me just how you prayed, so that I may do just right. How did you pray?" "Why, I said:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I want a watch.
I pray the Lord my soul to keep,
I want a watch.
If I should die before I wake,
I want a watch, anyway!"
And then I knowed I'd get it, for God wouldn't let Santa forget!"

The basket supper, given by the Baptist Young People's Union Thursday evening was a success; it was one of the social events of the summer. Although there were several other things going on that evening there was a large crowd of merry people in attendance, quite a number of beautifully decorated baskets were brought by the ladies and a closer examination of them after purchase proved them to be as nice inside as out. The literary and musical program rendered after the sale of the baskets was attentively listened to and much enjoyed.
